

Preaching at Easter with Jewish Communities in mind

The Holy Week and Easter Gospel readings are full of phrases and concepts that challenge the preacher. For example, what should we say about Matthew 27:25, where the people cry “His blood be on us and on our children!”?

Working with a Jewish faith practitioner, this interactive session will enable preachers to discuss the texts they use and develop strategies for avoiding casual or unthinking anti-Semitism.

Come along on Thursday 13th February, 10am-12pm at the St Philip’s Centre, 2a Stoughton Drive North, Leicester LE5 5UB

To book a place, please contact the Churches Training Officer, Laura Johnson on 0116 273 3459 or via courses@stphilipscentre.co.uk

The Methodist Church

Alternatively, if you would like a session for e.g. your lay preachers’ or circuit meeting, please get in touch with Laura to arrange a suitable date.

Preaching at Easter with Jewish Communities in mind

The Holy Week and Easter Gospel readings are full of phrases and concepts that challenge the preacher. For example, what should we say about Matthew 27:25, where the people cry “His blood be on us and on our children!”?

Working with a Jewish faith practitioner, this interactive session will enable preachers to discuss the texts they use and develop strategies for avoiding casual or unthinking anti-Semitism.

Come along on Thursday 13th February, 10am-12pm at the St Philip’s Centre, 2a Stoughton Drive North, Leicester LE5 5UB

To book a place, please contact the Churches Training Officer, Laura Johnson on 0116 273 3459 or via courses@stphilipscentre.co.uk

The Methodist Church

Alternatively, if you would like a session for e.g. your lay preachers’ or circuit meeting, please get in touch with Laura to arrange a suitable date.